MODERATOR Zach Cantor

WEBINAR DESCRIPTION

Children don't always make it easy to examine them!

This practical, case-based session will explore strategies for getting the most out of the pediatric physical exam, even when children are scared, very young, or medically complex.

We will also review key red flags for child abuse and neglect, when and how concerns must be reported, and how to document findings clearly and effectively in your notes should they ever serve as medical-legal evidence in court.

Come hear directly from your own pediatric content expert, with plenty of opportunity to ask questions, share experiences, and discuss the challenges you encounter in the field.
